The discovery and conquest of Terra Florida ... 1851. (Card 2)
Introduction: p. ix-lxvii.
Hakluyt had first published his translation of the anonymous "Relacam verdadeira" ... under title "Virginia richly valued, by the description of the moiste land of Florida ..." London, 1609. The losses which the Virginia colony suffered during the following year, 1610, produced much discouragement. Hakluyt, as one of the chief promoters of this first English settlement in North America, with a view to tempting new adventurers and to encourage those who had already gone out as colonists, decided to issue a second edition of this translation. But in place of the ambiguous title of 1609, which from a casual glance might lead one to infer that the book treated of Virginia instead of Florida, Hakluyt made use of more accurate title "The worthye and famous history of the travaile, discovery, & conquest, of that great continent of Terra Florida, being likely paralleld, with that of our new inhabited Virginia. As also the commodities of the said country, with diuers excellent and rich mynes ... which cannot but giue vs a great and exceeding hope of our Virginia, being as neere of one continent. Accomplished and effected, by Don Fernando de Soto ... London, Printed for Mathew Lownes, 1611". A reproduction of this t.-p. of 1611 is prefixed to the text in the above reprint.
